GLOSSARY OF TERMS FOR THE ANNUAL SURVEY OF ALLEGATIONS AND COSTS

An allegation is defined as one victim alleging an act or acts of abuse by one alleged perpetrator.

An allegation can be:

Credible – determined to bear the “semblance of truth” (i.e., has been sufficiently substantiated by a preliminary investigation to be forwarded to the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith for action according to Canons 1717 and 1719). In the case of an allegation against a deceased perpetrator, the allegation is credible if it meets the criteria for forwarding to the Congregation.

Unsubstantiated – determined by a preliminary investigation that sufficient evidence exists to demonstrate that the allegation did not occur as claimed.

Obviously false – determined by a preliminary investigation that allegation could not possibly have occurred (e.g., alleged perpetrator or alleged victim was not alive at the time).

Investigation ongoing – preliminary investigation underway or awaiting final determination of credibility.

Unable to be proven – determined by a preliminary investigation that insufficient evidence exists to conclude that the alleged abuse did, or did not occur.
